LIMA, OHIO, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1920

PRICE THREE CENTS

CHILDREN ATTENDING PUBLIC AND PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS SHOULD BE CARRIED FOR A LOWER FARE ON THE STREET RAILWAY LINES DURING CERTAIN HOURS OF THE DAY

Since the street car fare has been advanced in Lima many parents feel it is impossible to send their children to school on the street cars as formerly. One conductor today mentioned the fact that he always picked up 12 to 15 girls at one stop before the increase, but since the advance he rarely picks up any.

In these days of high shoe leather and the fact that many students are required to go long distances, especially to high schools, some adjustment should be made so that children may ride. Especially should this be done before bad days begin.

The street car company could issue special school tickets. A rate of 12 tickets, a week supply, for 40 cents would make it possible for most children to ride. The school traffic would come at a time when cars are not crowded and would not interfere with traffic during the rush hours. The increase in the number riding probably would more than make up for the decrease in fare.

This plan is being followed with success in a number of other cities. It should appeal to the company as well as to parents since revenue is needed by the Ohio Electric. It is worth a trial at least.

TOLD OF PLAN TO DYNAMITE

Two Persons Tell of Mysterious Notes Received; Missing "Fischer" Sought by U. S. Secret Service Men Is Arrested In Canada

NUTLEY, N. J.—(By Associated Press.)—Warning to keep out of Wall street "until after September 16" was received here September 9, by Joseph T. O'Neill, 24 year old son of a bank note paper manufacturer, he declared here Friday.

O'Neill said he was on a tube train from Newark, N. J., and got into conversation with a man next to him. The stranger said he was a secret service agent attached to the French high commission and was on his way to Buffalo where some anarchists were under arrest.

ONE ARREST MADE
NEW YORK.—(By United Press.)—Federal, county and city authorities Friday threw every resource into the investigation of the bomb explosion in Wall-st., Thursday.

The hunt for Edward P. Fischer, former metropolitan tennis champion, who warned his friends to keep out of Wall-st. September 15, ended with his arrest in Hamilton, Canada, on a charge of insanity. The New York board of estimates Friday offered a reward of $10,000 for information which would lead to arrest of those responsible for the explosion.

REPORT ON FISCHER
NEW YORK.—(By United Press.)—Thomas Delahanty, caretaker at the tennis courts at 93rd st. and Amsterdam-ave., Friday revealed that Edward Fischer, missing former employee of the French high commission, warned him two weeks ago that Wall-st. would be blown up "on the 15th."

"Fischer came to me early one morning and said: 'Tom, I want to tell you a secret.' Delahanty declared, 'He acted very mysterious, but was really serious. As nearly as I can recall his words, he said: 'We are going to blow up Wall-st. on the 15th. We've got them where we want them. We're going to get England, too. We've got England where we want them, too.'"

"I couldn't swear," he said, "but as I recall it, he said 'two.' He may possibly have said 'three,' but as I recall it, he said 'two.'"

"He went on to say that he told me this as a warning because I was an old friend of his and he didn't want me to get hurt. He told me to be sure not to go down to Wall-st. that day. I took it as a joke, but told him not worry; that I wouldn't go there."

CLUB MEMBERS TOLD
"I told some of the members of the club how about it, and they all said not to pay any attention to it; that Fischer was a bit light in the head. Everybody around here thought he was kind of crazy."

CHIN GOLF, PLAY IT!

Do you play chin golf?
It is the king of indoor diversions.

The idea is to shave yourself with the fewest possible strokes and the least loss of life.

The sport is profitable as well as entertaining.

To encourage Chin-Golf The News and Times-Democrat will hold a Chin Golf tournament.

The rules follow—
ONE—Male citizens of voting age are eligible, but no person who is a barber or butcher is eligible.

TWO—The winner will be named by a committee of competent judges who will choose the man who shaves himself with the least number of continuous, non-stop strokes. The three lowest claimants must meet in a race.

THREE—Contestants will be permitted to choose their own weapons—razors, straight edges, niblicks, safety or putters of the "straight edge made safe" variety.

Send your record—
Exact shaving time, and Number of strokes, and Kind of razor, and Type of razor.

To the Chin Golf Editor of The News and Times-Democrat at once. A suitable prize will be awarded the winner of the contest.

DAVIS "PROMISES"

Will Cut State Expenses 'Hundreds of Thousands,' He Says

WASHINGTON, C. H. — (By Associated Press.)—Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate for governor here Friday, asserted that "I can reduce state expenditures not in the thousands, but in the hundreds of thousands, and I promise you that I will not seek re-election unless this is accomplished by my administration."

Pointing to a statement made recently before the Ohio Grange by Vice-Dunlap, Democratic candidate, that he could not promise to reduce state expenditures, and in which he is alleged to have said that "the only thing I or any one else can do, is to keep expenses as nearly as possible to where they are now," Davis asserted that "this is the real issue of the campaign."

"I say to you," the Republican candidate declared, "that my experience following a Democratic city administration and my knowledge of some things that are being done by the Democratic administration, makes me certain that I can reduce expenses."

BRAIN GIVEN TO SCIENCE
DAYTON, O. — Complying with a request in his will, physicians removed the brain from the late Dr. J. C. Reeve, pioneer Ohio physician, who died Tuesday, and shipped it to Cornell University, to be used in medical research. Dr. Reeve had an unusually brilliant mind. He was 91 years old.

BUSINESS STARTS AMID RUINS

Wall-St. Resumes Activity Tho Buildings Are Shattered

EXCHANGE BARS VISITORS

Crowds Kept Moving by Squads of Police

NEW YORK.—(By United Press.)—It was "business as usual" in Wall-st. Friday.

The nation's money mart resumed operations just as if the explosion which spread death and destruction at the corner of Broad and Wall-sts. Thursday had never occurred.

A human tide of men and women—office bound—flowed past the street intersection where bounded windows, shipped stone work, and a big crowd of policemen stood out as grim reminders of what had happened.

The J. P. Morgan bank opened on time with clerks at their desks on their first floor where flying missiles injured many.

The shattered windows had been reinforced with cheese cloth screens reinforced with lath.

OFFICES BADLY DAMAGED
Like the inhabitants of a cyclone-swept western village getting back to work in temporary shelters, the thousands of Wall-st. clerks, bookers and accountants resumed their tasks in offices which were in some cases practically open to the street and in which the ceilings were cracked and the walls pitted with the metal slugs that showered death and injury.

In the exchange the brokers began trading promptly at 10 a. m. Workmen were busy replacing the windows. Many of the brokers were short handed, due to casualties.

A hundred and fifty policemen were assigned to duty at Broad and Wall-sts. where they kept the crowds moving and formed a cordon before the assay office. There were many mounted policemen in the squad. Numerous plainclothesmen stood about the banking houses, carefully scrutinizing passers by. Admission was denied to the Morgan bank, except on business. Visitors also were barred from the spectator's gallery at the stock exchange. Many of the broken windows had already been replaced. Others were being fitted as the crowds thronged to work.

HIGH BUILDING VACATED
At intervals fine bits of glass sifted down from the window sills throughout the district. People starting up to see where it was coming from, had to shade their eyes with their hands as the fine particles came down.

One six-story building, the Post and Flag structure, was vacated as the result of the explosion. Offices were opened elsewhere.

MURDER SUSPECT UNSHAKEN

Michigan Doctor Quizzed in Death of His Wife

WALKER, Mich. — (By United Press.)—Renewed attempts to shake the pounce of Dr. Otis W. Sedgwick, held here in connection with the murder of his wife and three-year-old daughter at Whitehall, Mich., early Thursday, were to be made by authorities Friday.

Dr. Sedgwick, found in bed in his home at Whitehall when neighbors investigated the murder, has refused to talk. The Sedgwick's year-old baby was asleep in a crib when the father was found.

Police said they found letters in the Sedgwick home at Whitehall, which said he suffered a mental malady which caused temporary insanity. One letter was from the doctor's brother, Herbert M. Sedgwick, secretary to the mayor of New Haven, Conn., to Dr. C. L. Kilbourn, Forest Park, N. Y., father of the murdered woman.

Mrs. Sedgwick and her baby daughter were choked to death. Their bodies were found on the lawn in front of the Sedgwick home.

CREDIT WITHHELD

Secretary Treasury Sees Plan To Hold Goods for Rise

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—Extension of credit by the government does not seem warranted by present conditions. Secretary Houston stated Friday attributing much of the popular clamor for more credit to persons desiring to hold their goods for higher prices.

The government could hardly aid in withholding commodities from the markets by extension of credit, the secretary declared, without being a party to a conspiracy in restraint of trade and making more secure high price levels.

Credit expansion recently has been ample, the secretary said, to provide for the movement of crops and the general tendency has been more towards expansion than restriction. The situation, he added, is clearing gradually.

DEATH PLOT IN N. Y. BARED

Financial District Shaken by Explosion of Infernal Machine, Planted In Wall-st, Declare Investigators—36 Persons Killed and Over 200 Injured

Money Centers of Big Cities from Coast to Coast are Now Armed Camps to Guard Against Repetition of the Great Disaster

NEW YORK.—(By Associated Press.)—The financial centers of America's big cities from coast to coast are armed camps Friday with police and private sentries posted to guard against repetition of the bomb explosion that rocked Wall-st. Thursday.

From Washington, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Detroit, Baltimore, as far south as the Gulf of Mexico and west to the Golden Gate, authorities announced heavy patrols of plain clothesmen and police reserves in their business districts, and federal agents worked with state and city officials to run down reports of widespread extremist plots.

Thirty-six persons are dead and more than 200 injured from the explosion Thursday, declared by the police as caused by an infernal machine. Discovery of parts of clock-work in the wreckage, and announcement by experts that trinitrotoluol or picric acid was used in the bomb, have sent detectives and department of justice men on thirty "leads" pointing to bomb plots and radical activities.

CHIEF INVESTIGATOR FLYNN DECLARES BOMB WAS PLANTED IN FINANCIAL DISTRICT

William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation, department of justice, declared Friday afternoon he was positive that a bomb had caused the explosion in Wall-st. Thursday which took a toll of 36 lives, injured about 200 persons and caused property damage running into the millions.

Chief Flynn made his announcement shortly after Fire Commissioner Drennan had reported to Mayor Hylan his belief that a bomb was responsible for the disaster and the police had begun to swing to the bomb theory as opposed to that of a collision between a powder wagon and an automobile.

"There is absolutely no doubt that it was a bomb," said Chief Flynn. "An important development in the last two hours has convinced us of this. The bomb was apparently placed by a person who was within four blocks of Wall and Broad-st when the explosion occurred."

Certain at last of the cause of the explosion, federal agents and city police increased their search for the driver of a wagon drawn by one horse which was blown to pieces. No trace of him has yet been found.

The theory of the investigation is that a time bomb was placed on the wagon and that the driver hurried from the scene just after arranging for the explosion to occur at noon.

TROOPS ARE HELD IN READINESS FOR INSTANT CALL TO DUTY IN EMERGENCY

Several New York detectives and secret service men left the city before dawn Friday morning for unannounced destinations on out-of-town ends of the investigation of the explosion.

Troops were held in readiness on Governor's Island Friday and detachments of the 22nd infantry were in barracks subject to instant call.

All public buildings and the homes of wealthy and prominent men here are under special watch, and every available man is held in reserve or actively working in federal, state and city investigation agencies.

Between eight and nine o'clock Friday morning police lines in the financial district were relaxed for admission of the thousands of office workers. During the same period emergency patrols were doubled and every doorway and alley was under close inspection. Down-town subway stations were kept cleared by a large force of police.

During the early hours public and private agencies cleaned up Wall-st, sweeping up tons of debris and washing down blood spattered sidewalks and buildings. Repairs in force started work remedying damage to twisted iron office structures in the

A survey made Friday in Lima shows an average struck from the prices charged by four eating houses, hotels and restaurants, of the city to be higher than the fair-price list established by the Cleveland and Pittsburgh fair-price commission.

Chairman J. B. Dugan declared no definite instructions had been received Friday, but that he has been notified such instructions, with lists recommended to other cities of the state will be sent within a few days. He declared it is his understanding that the Lima commission will be expected to base its action on these lists.

The prices established in Cleveland are said to have been made after careful investigation in Pittsburgh, and other cities, with the result that reductions averaging 33 per cent were made by the commission.

The table shows the high, low and average prices charged by the four eating places investigated in Lima, and the fair-price established for the same articles in Cleveland.

	High	Low	Average	Fair-Price
Cantaloupe	20c			15c
Corn on the cob	25c			10c
Sliced cucumbers	15c			10c
Coffee, tea or milk	15c	5c	8c	5c
Sliced tomatoes	30c	15c	25c	10c
French Fried Potatoes	25c	10c	19c	10c
Two eggs, bread and butter	25c			25c
Plain Omelet	40c	25c	32c	30c
Ham and eggs	60c			40c
Prime roast beef	70c			40c
Watermelon, per slice	25c			15c
Pie, per cut	20c	15c	17c	5c

In cases in the table where only one price is shown in Lima eating houses, the articles were not listed on the regular menu of more than two of the ones visited as provided by an executive order received from the state fair price commissioner by Chairman Dugan, of the Allen-co commission Thursday. In one case watermelon, cantaloupe and corn on the cob were all listed but no prices given, as required by the new ruling of the fair price commission.

Dugan ruled Friday that where articles of food served by an eating house are shown on a menu, with the prices charged, the requirements of the state fair-price commission that prices be "published or posted," is complied with. This decision was made when some restaurateurs inferred that prices must be posted on a wall in plain view of all occupants of the dining rooms.

Morgan building, and glaziers by scores began the long task of restoring window panes in the entire financial hub.

TWO MORE VICTIMS DIE

Two more names were added to the death list of the blast with the announcement that John Donohue, a Brooklyn accountant, and John W. Weir died in hospitals this morning of explosion injuries.

Two reported warnings that the explosion was to occur figured in the investigation.

One of these was a letter received by Lieutenant Arnaud, of the French high commission, from a man known to have been a former employee of the commission, who predicted, it was said, such an occurrence and warned the commission to close offices and send the employees home yesterday afternoon.

The other was a letter received two days ago by George Ketchledge, an employee of a brokerage house, from Edward Fischer in Toronto, Canada, who warned against remaining in Wall street "after 3 o'clock on the fifteenth" and ended his mis-sive with "good luck."

Efforts also were made to ascertain the approximate amount of bonds and other negotiable securities said to have been lost during Thursday's confusion. Special detectives and officials of supply companies were exerting their efforts to this end. It was reported the amount of securities lost was expected to run into several hundred thousand dollars.

Estimates of the property damage run as high as $2,500,000.

More than 150 pounds of broken sash weights and other metal fragments have been collected by the fire department at the scene of the disaster and turned over to the police. Commissioner Drennan said.

Fire Commissioner Drennan reported to Mayor Hylan that the explosion in Wall-st which killed 23 and injured 200 evidently was caused by a bomb.

BOMB TO BE ASSEMBLED
At police headquarters it was said the first task would be to assemble the fragments in an effort to reconstruct the bomb and determine whether it was made by skilled hands or by a novice.

The explosion, according to the official investigators, "apparently occurred in a horse-drawn, covered wagon at a point almost opposite an entrance to the United States assay office."

The investigators found that the wagon had a red running gear and that there were no markings on the harness other than to show it was for one horse.

The small pieces of window weights with which the infernal machine had been loaded had been "fused by an intense heat" indicating they had been cut into slugs by a high powered gas burner.

PIECES OF METAL FOUND
"Pieces of metal resembling tin," the report said, "were found in the debris similar to metal lining such as is used in the construction of export cases of high explosives."

No sash weights such as were used in the bomb and fragments of which pitted the windows and walls of the always took sides with the Bolsheviks and anarchists and often talked about it around here, but nobody took him seriously."

Inspector Lahey of the police department, said that the police were hunting Fischer, he declared he had information that Fischer had been under observation for mental trouble in Toronto.

FISCHER LEAVES TORONTO

TORONTO.—(By Associated Press.)—Edward Fischer, described as a member of an old New York family, who was staying at a hotel here early this week, left suddenly after he is alleged to have mailed a postal to George W. Ketchledge, an employee of a New York brokerage firm, warning him to "get out of Wall-st as soon as the bomb strikes or 3 o'clock Wednesday, the 15th." His whereabouts are unknown here.

ARRESTS EXPECTED TODAY

NEW YORK.—(By United Press.)—Arrests were expected Friday in the hunt for the terrorists who killed and injured scores of people by exploding an infernal machine in Wall-st Thursday noon.

Police, detectives, department of justice agents and private operatives, were combing New York for a former employee of the French high commission, who was alleged to have warned the commission of the catastrophe. They want to question this man, who is said to be deranged and to have intense hatred of Wall-st and all millionaires.

BOMB THEORY SHOWN

W. J. Burns, the detective, said he had no doubt that bombs were the cause of the explosion. That there were several infernal machines in the region.

"The bombs were loaded with window weights cut in half," said Burns. "They were put in a delivery wagon, which was driven into Wall-st from the east curb, driven up Wall-st from the east curb directly in front of the assay office, just across the street from the Morgan office and in a position where the flying fragments would wreak havoc on the sub-treasury building and the stock exchange as well. We have evidence to prove it was the work of a time bomb. Sufficient evidence was collected from the debris in the street to make it safe to say the police will have it cleared up within ten days."

JOHNSON PRAISED BY GOV. COX

Exponents of Progressivism Against "Boss Barnes"

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—(By Associated Press.)—In an address here Friday, opening his California campaign, Governor Cox, of Ohio, Democratic presidential candidate, praised Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, as an exponent of progressivism and again flayed "big business," and Republican leaders supporting Senator Harding.

Although they differ fundamentally on the league of nations, Governor Cox said he admired Senator Johnson for frankness and lack of ambiguity or hypocrisy.

"He and I do not agree on international policies," said Governor Cox, to a large theater audience at a noon meeting. "But I respect the man for his candor."

"I have looked with admiration on the fight, which he has made throughout the years against reaction. He fought it with Roosevelt and he continued consistently the contest which began in 1912, the contest of the progressives against the reactionaries."

"As an Ohioan, I give to you the assurance that the observation made by a distinguished citizen of our state to the effect that Hiram Johnson was a blackguard and unfit to associate with decent men, is not the view of our people. If Hiram Johnson had been a candidate before the Republican primaries in Ohio this year, he would have carried them."

"If the reactionary senatorial oligarchy gains control of the government in this campaign, it will so manipulate power of patronage that the progressive Republicans will either be compelled to join another party or form one of their own."

"Let me recall a parallel between the campaigns of 1912 and 1920. Eight years ago Colonel Roosevelt charged that the nomination was made by reactionary forces in defiance of the rank and file as expressed at the primaries. In 1920, precisely the same thing was done and Senator Johnson was humiliated the same as Colonel Roosevelt. To his neighbors when he returned home from the Chicago convention, he expressed no bitterness and said plainly that he would rather come back to his home state defeated than to have been nominated in the room of a Chicago hotel by representatives of big business.

"His further observation was 'a few men have set at naught, for the time being, the American primary system.'"

"It is true and it would be futile to deny it, that there are many Carnes, Smoots and representatives of Morgan and Company, who arrogate to themselves the right of selection of candidates, notwithstanding what may have been decided by the people themselves."

"I am unable to see by what process of reasoning the political party which has given Boss Barnes, of New York, a distinct status of leadership in this campaign, can expect the progressive friends of Theodore Roosevelt and Hiram Johnson to give it support."

7 TENANTS SEEK RENT PROBE

Dugan Will Hand Facts to Federal Authorities

That a certain piece of Lima property which was purchased for $24,000 will be renting after October 1 for an amount equal to a 10 percent return on $24,000 until the fair price commission interferes was made known Friday by Fair-Price Commissioner, B. Dugan.

Dugan declared the matter is to be put in the hands of federal authorities of once.

He said an investigation shows that the property in question is on the tax duplicate for $2,250.

Seven of eight tenants of the building filed complaint with the fair price commission, a report by Dugan. He said of the other tenant was out of the city on his summer vacation at a time the complaints of the other seven filed.

According to the complaint Dugan said, the building contains six inside apartments which are rented for $10 per month on July 1. The rent for the two outside apartments was $32.50. This rent is shown on the $5 on each apartment since July 1, it was reported, and recently tenants were notified that another $5 boost is to be made October 1, bringing the prices to $10 for inside and $42.50 for outside apartments. According to these figures, the yearly income amounts to $2,500 on the property. Fair-Price Dugan says.

Real estate dealers of the city agree that a 10 percent gross return on property is a fair price for rental.

After Dugan declared Friday all cases brought to the attention of the commission will be put in the hands of federal authorities if investigation by the local fair-price commission shows that landlords are profiteering.

COAL SHORTAGE SOLUTION NOT IN SIGHT, DUGAN SAYS

That the pending coal shortage is no nearer solution than it was before the conference was the declaration of J. B. Dugan upon his return from a meeting of the public utility commissions of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, held at Columbus.

He declared the interstate commission refuses to modify its priority order for shipments to the north west, despite protests of the combined commissions. It was decided he had to have representatives of the three states, all on the same level, at a later date.

Representatives of the American Gas Service Association, American Coal Operators Association, and representatives of retail coal dealers of the three states were present at the meeting.

Dugan declared it was brought out at the conference 20 million tons of coal intended for the northwest has been shipped to Canada.

O. E. MAY REFUSE FREE HEAT

McClure Says Ordinance Does Not Require Obligation

The Ohio Electric railway will refuse to furnish steam heat free for the city building on E. High-st., it was apparent Friday.

Vice President J. Harvey McClure declared that while the O. E. has not been officially requested by the city to heat the building, he has been approached unofficially on several occasions, and it is his opinion that the franchise granted the Ohio Electric in 1901 does not require that steam heat be furnished city buildings erected after the passage of the ordinance.

He declared the franchise held by the Ohio Electric grants them the right to furnish heat in such sections of the city as they see fit, and that it is the opinion of officials of the company that they should not be required to extend their lines for the purpose of heating the city building on E. High-st. He said it is out of the district covered by the company's steam lines.

Safety Director Fred H. Fisher declared no coal has been provided for heating the building. He said coal was laid in in June for all the other fire companies of the city except Central.

McClure stated it is the wish of the management of the Ohio Electric to cooperate with the city officials as much as possible, and comply with all reasonable requests. "However," he declared, "they cannot take on additional burdens which could not be fulfilled on account of the financial condition of the company."

BOND SALE SOON

It is estimated that the sale of the bonds will enable the lodge to clear away every cent of outstanding indebtedness.

Parades, meetings and dinners have been arranged as a part of the drive. Some $10,000 worth of the bonds already have been disposed of, it has been announced, thru voluntary subscriptions.

The Rev. Father Tobin has been selected chairman of the campaign.

ILLINOIS PRIMARY RESULT MIXED

Small, Ahead For Governor, McKinley For Senator

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — Efforts were continued Friday to complete the final tall count of Wednesday's primary ball lot for the closely contested Republican gubernatorial and senatorial nominations and the Democratic senatorial race. With 591 out of the 5737 precincts in the state missing of which 279 were in Chicago, the Small of Kentucky, supported by Mayor Thompson of Chicago for the gubernatorial nomination, appeared to have won the victory over the Lieutenant Governor, John C. Oglesby, Foxden candidate for plurality of the 100,000 vote vote of nearly 700,000. Small polled his heaviest vote in Chicago where he received the support of the Thompson Republicans, while Oglesby's strength came from the down-state London Republicans. Congressman W. B. McKinley, Foxden candidate for Senator, appeared to have defeated Frank J. Smith supported by Mayor Thompson by a plurality, one which still is not final, but which decided the gubernatorial contest. Results of a clerical error in the tabulation of the Chicago vote put McKinley in the lead by about 1000 votes. Further down the ballot, the 147 precincts outside Cook county to report via 21881. Smith had 17, with 279 precincts missing in Chicago.

The official canvass to be held next Tuesday night will be the final tally. YOU CAN SAVE SOME REAL MONEY ON YOUR FALLOUT, HATS, SHIRTS, ETC. AT THE JOSEPH CHENOWETH MEN'S FALLOUT SALE. WATCH THEIR ADS.

COX CLUB FORMED

Spencerville Meeting One of Most Enthusiastic Held

Success marked the first meeting of the Spencerville Cox Club held in that city Thursday night. The room was crowded to capacity. Every seat was taken and the enthusiastic Cox boosters lined the aisles. A large number of persons were forced to stand in the doorway, being unable to get into the building. Hon. Benjamin F. Welty, candidate for reelection to Congress from this district, was the principal speaker. Welty discoursed on the waterway project which he is endeavoring to get thru. He also declared the Republicans are responsible for the high price of sugar. According to Welty, sugar prices went up steadily while Republican Congresses agitated the subject and refused the request of President

Wilson and Sugar Equalization Board for authority to purchase the Cuban crop which would insure 10-cent sugar for the American public.

Mrs. Kent Hughes talked to the great number of women present. She gave them a vision of what they might do under the new conditions. She urged them to register and then vote. She emphasized the fact that under the existing conditions the women can do much good. The League of Nations was discussed by L. Earl Ludwig, of this city. Thomas M. Berry, candidate for state senator presided over the meeting.

Declares He Is Highly Pleased With New Remedy

Well known Dayton citizen, suffering from sluggish liver, weak kidneys, nervousness, loss of appetite and constipation.

The great herbal remedy, Drees, gave prompt relief and made him feel full of energy.

"I formerly lost from five to eight days a month on account of sickness. I got so much better when I first began taking Drees, but being a conservation man, I wanted until I was positive Drees was doing the work, then I was glad to endorse it, says Mr. C. N. Hunsicker of 14 Orchard Ave., Dayton, Ohio.

"My liver was sluggish and I often had dizzy spells, spots floated before my eyes, my tongue was coated, and I had a foul taste in my mouth. My kidneys were weak, and I often had dull, aching pains in my back. After each meal I'd feel very uncomfortable, caused by gastritis, which gave my stomach a full, bloated feeling often with a burning sensation. I dreaded for night to come because I was so nervous I could not sleep, but would roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other, and when morning came I would be more worn out than when I retired the night before.

"Since taking Drees all these ailments have disappeared. My bowels act regularly; no more dizzy attacks; the bad taste and foul breath are gone; I sleep and bend over without a pain in my limbs, and all the aches in my back, in the region of my kidneys are gone. I sleep sound all night long, and have to be roused every morning. I can't say enough in praise of this great remedy, Drees."

All druggists now sell Drees and it is being especially introduced in Lima by Bladwin Central Store, Cor. Main and High-sts.—Adv.

The Housewives Burden

When a woman is almost distracted from overwork, her home is in disorder, crying children, and on top of all is suffering from backache, bearing down pains, or some other form of feminine ills, then she should remember that hundreds of women in just her condition have been restored to health and regained their youthful strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and not rest until she has given it a fair trial.

Proof that it Restored the Health of These Two Women

Cairo, Ill.—"Some time ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J. R. Matthews, 3311 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effect which so often develops at such times. That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells. I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women 'take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and be strong.' I will be glad to have you use my name if it will be the means of helping any one."—Mrs. R. A. Fairburn, 606 Orchard Knob Ave., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Hot Cakes!

—mean a delightful treat and a wholesome meal when they're Pantex hot cakes.

Everything in Pantex is good and pure and wholesome—the best of flours, wheat, rice, and corn—pure phosphate baking powder that makes the cakes light and fluffy—salt from the best producer in the country—and because milk makes hot cakes tender and nourishing and corn sugar makes them appetizingly brown—Pantex contains twice as much of these costly ingredients.

If you had all these good things handy and knew just the right proportion in which they should be mixed, you could make as good hot cakes as Pantex—but Pantex saves you all this trouble.

If it were possible to produce a more perfect hot cake flour than Pantex we would do it because only the highest quality products bear the Gambrill name and trademark. Every package carries our unqualified money-back guarantee.

BIG GROWTH FOR TRADE SEEN

Conditions Point to Prosperity
Export Leader Says

NEW YORK—In a statement just prepared, W. L. Saunders of the Ingersoll-Rand Company, and president of the American Manufacturers' Export Association, declared that while a few months ago there was cause for alarm in industrial conditions, various restrictions that were imposed by the Government, the Federal Reserve banks and part of the public have prevented drastic results and brought about a situation that now forebodes encouragement for the future industrial prosperity of America and its foreign trade.

Mr. Saunders believes that the readjustment which is now going on, moderately but definitely, should surely encourage American manufacturers to lay plans for a healthy growth of business in foreign markets.

Mr. Saunders said:

"A few months ago there was cause for alarm in industrial conditions, prices and bank loans were soaring and it seemed to conservative business men that the shock of the war was not over—that we were riding for a fall. Being forewarned by the Government, the Federal Reserve Banks and the public determined to exert such reasonable pressure as might forestall drastic results. By the Government, the issue of short term certificates at market rates, the rise in the discount rate at the Federal Reserve Banks and the determination on the part of the public that prices must come down or they would not buy, have resulted in a decided readjustment which is now going on. Bank loans in the Federal Reserve District of New York have declined 212 percent from the peak.

TURKS MAKE TIN CANS FROM RUBBISH PILES INTO REAL CANDLESTICKS

SALONICA—Nothing is too considerable for the Turkish artisans of Salonica to utilize in some ingenious fashion. Thus the despised American tomato can, the humble tin jam container, are prizes sought far and wide by the Moslem tinkers who fashion these despised objects and person at the trash pile into candlesticks which sell for a respectable price in the city's street bazaars.

The tin-can candlestick, an article apparently peculiar to Salonica, is a commodity of comparatively recent conception. Its appearance dates from the coming of the American Red Cross to the Greek post in recent months hundreds of medications have been distributed by the American relief workers to the Albanian refugees passing thru on their way to polluted sanctuaries in Serbia. And so it has happened that tin cans have found their way in great numbers to the city trash heaps.

DONAHEY AGAINST CONSTABULARY

Would Have Better Co-operation of Local Peace Officers.

COLUMBUS.—Better police protection in rural districts by fuller co-operation between city, county and state agencies, is urged by State Auditor Donahey, democratic candidate for governor, in a plank of his personal platform.

"It will no longer suffice to confine our police protection to urban centers; with the advent of the automobiles, the motor bandit has developed as a new and dangerous criminal. Unless the arm of the law is lengthened to guard and protect rural sections, night travel will become dangerous, and lives and property of farmers endangered," Donahey said.

Donahey declared his unalterable opposition to a state constabulary. "It interferes with home rule," he said. "When a state attempts to do the work that legitimately belongs to the local district, the expense is far greater and there is apt to develop a tyranny and even brutality toward defenseless citizens as has occurred in some of our neighboring states."

At present, according to the democratic candidate, the state maintains 4,000 national guardsmen; counties have 2,110 sheriffs, and deputies; township possess 2,690 constables and clerks and villages employ 5,000 police officers. Full co-operation, in Donahey's opinion, of these agencies will provide the greatest degree of protection for rural districts. That he will try to bring about, he said, if elected governor.

Quits Cathartics --Internal Baths Relieved Permanently

Mr. Joseph A. Wells, Hotel Vendome, Washington, D. C., writes the Hygienic Institute of New York as follows:

"On the 15th of June, 1915, I purchased a J. B. L. Cascade. The results it has produced are simply marvelous. For 20 years I used cathartics, but have never had anything but the Cascade for almost a month. I feel like a new man; I want to be pleasant to everybody. Before I used the Cascade I was a grouchy, did not like anybody and could not be pleasant."

"If you bathe internally with the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable. I consider it a waste from the lower intestine makes us bloated, blue, dull and nervous. Internal baths are Nature's own cure for constipation—just little tiny warm water properly applied. Drugs and cathartics—this 'J. B. L. Cascade' assists her."

It is the invention of Charles A. Taylor, M. D., of New York, who specialized on Internal Bathing for 25 years, and will be shown and explained to you by Hunter's Drug Store, who will also be glad to give you free on request an interesting booklet called "Why Man of Today Is Only 50% Efficient," which covers the subject in a very thorough way.

Clip this out as a reminder and ask for the booklet the first time you are in the neighborhood.—Adv.

OPEN LETTERS

To the County Budget Commission and City Officials

GENTLEMEN: I have heard both sides of your argument over the division of taxes for the coming year. It is the same old wrangle you have every year, but this year it seems to be a little louder than usual.

I understand there are certain provisions in the law beyond which you cannot go and I understand that both the city and county want as much of the public funds as they can get, but the division should be fair.

Live and let live should be the motto in this matter. If the city is not getting its share something should be done. If it has received its due and the other divisions are justified, then let's forget the matter. However, it does look to me as if the cut the city suffered was a little heavy.

LIMA BEANE

To the Rev. O. E. Knepp

DEAR SIR: You will soon leave for other fields of endeavor. I want to take this opportunity to thank you for all you have done here and to say that my best wishes go with you.

LIMA BEANE

To a Traffic Policeman at Main and High-sts

DEAR SIR: I noticed you made much of the incident when a woman left her car for a couple of minutes in a no-parking zone at Main and High-sts the other day while she stepped into a bank. Later in the day I saw two automobiles parked in the same place and both stood there as much as 15 minutes that I know of and were still there when I left the vicinity. Both were occupied all the time but I failed to note a display of the close adherence to the rules on your part shown earlier. Let's not repeat.

LIMA BEANE

To the Farmers

M' FRIENDS: I was in the country this week and in different places nearly saw five apples going to waste on the ground. They could be sold at a fair price here and help out down prices as well as bring you in some revenue. Think it over.

LIMA BEANE

To the Public

M' FRIENDS: I was disappointed when I learned that it is going to require action by the police to stop you from jay walking. You have been asked by the mayor to stop it and most of you know that it is contrary to the city ordinance. Can't you cooperate to the extent that arrests will not be necessary?

LIMA BEANE

To Owners of Baseball Clubs

M' FRIENDS: I notice the suggestion that batters wear helmets as protection against the bean ball which recently has caused so much talk. If you have a chance to vote on the matter oppose it. Adoption of head-gear would tend to encourage the bean ball. Instead, penalize the pitcher who uses it. It has no place in clean baseball.

LIMA BEANE

To Frank Eberhart

DEAR FRANK: That check they handed you was mighty nice but it doesn't begin to express my appreciation of what you have done for my boys while you were secretary of the Y. M. C. A. You have made an enviable record and I hate to lose you. But since you're going, good luck.

LIMA BEANE

To City Council

GENTLEMEN: What are you going to do about moving the city offices out of the fire trap on W. High-st? You had this matter up some time ago, but the valuable records and equipment remain in the old building. Why not get started so everyone can have a modern office in the spring?

LIMA BEANE

To a Main-st Barber

DEAR FRIEND: I saw you get a tip the other day three times the size men usually give. You probably did not think of it at the time, but it was given because after you had shaved your customer you did not suggest a massage, did not hint that a shampoo would be the thing and did not insist on a new tonic. There should be more of your kind.

LIMA BEANE

To the Knights of Columbus

GENTLEMEN: Allow me to congratulate you on your sensible scheme to raise funds to pay for your handsome new building. It is something new here and should meet with the hearty approval of everyone. You have one of the finest buildings of its kind in the country and your bond sale ought to be a complete success.

LIMA BEANE

To Congressman Daniel A. Reed

DEAR DAN: You are here to revive my Chamber of Commerce. Here's hoping you make a good job of it and put it on such an efficient working basis that it will make things hum for years to come. You have a reputation for being able to do this. Throw the old machine into high and don't stop until you have finished the task.

JUST A GIRL

A GROWING FRIENDSHIP

Harold took me to a restaurant for supper. It was a quiet, inexpensive place, but clean and attractive. I would have enjoyed the good food, and watching the people, had it not been for our meeting Mike and Joe; but that had left out of concert with myself and everything else.

We walked part of the way home, then Harold proposed we ride. "I don't want to tire you all out the first time. I hope to spend many Sunday afternoons with you," he remarked while he waited for the street car.

When he said goodnight he held my hand a little longer than was necessary, and it made me a bit uncomfortable. I didn't want him to make love to me—yet I had so few friends, so few acquaintances that I hated to say or do anything to hurt him.

When I told Mary about meeting Mike and Joe, and what they had said about being on their way to call, she was furious.

"The nerve of them fellows," she exclaimed. "What did that Mr. Moore say?"

"Nothing while they were around. Afterward he said he would have them arrested if they annoyed us."

"Why didn't he knock them down?"

"He isn't the fighting kind, I guess," I flushed as I recalled my own feelings on the subject.

"Well, I don't care for that sort! He might be all right at that, but if he was my fellow I'd rather he gave them a hit in the jaw himself, than to talk of arresting them."

I laughed at Mary's expression, while I could but acknowledge that I felt much the same.

"I am afraid, Mary," I said after a time, "that meeting me with a man may make them bolder than they have been."

"You mean Mike and Joe?"

"Don't worry! We'll find some way to keep away from them."

"They must live near here somewhere. We may have to move on their account."

"Not on your life! This place suits us, is cheap and decent. We ain't going to be drove out by them two sports."

"I, too, felt we should remain where we were. Mrs. Lynch was kind to us; often now she did little things for us—that made us feel that somehow she cared about us. It is strange how a little kindness affects one when lonely. Even a poor, hard-working Irish woman's thoughtfulness helped me at this time, and I was sorry to need of help."

Harold Moore seemed a good fellow. The Sunday I went walking with him, he assumed a protective air, and now he never tipped me. Often, however, I would find a rose by my plate, and once he left two tickets for a lecture at the Y. M. C. A. Mary and I went, and he took us home, although we told him it was unnecessary.

"He'll be asking you to marry him pretty soon," Mary said as we talked about him before going to bed.

"Nonsense!"

"No it ain't nonsense I saw the signs to-night."

"But Mary, I have constantly refused to be with him. It is nearly three weeks since I went out on Sunday with him."

"That don't make no difference! Didn't you tell me he had stopped tipping you when you wait on him?"

"Don't he keep bringing you posies? Ain't I seen he can't half eat his 15 cents worth for 'waitress' you? He's got it bad, Zena, awful bad."

"I don't agree with you Mary. But if he is serious I am sorry for him, and I must not go out with him any more," I sighed. Even the sort of attention Harold Moore was able to give me had helped pass the time. Now I must send him away.

I wondered if he would feel about me as I did about Kenneth Lawrence. I would pity him if he did. Then, as always, I forgot all about everything in thoughts of Kenneth.

YOUR NAME

By PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN
VARIATIONS—Byatt, Liggett, Gates, Galts, Waite, Wayte.
RACIAL ORIGIN—English.
SOURCE—Geographical, also occupational.

The "silly" names in this group are interwoven thru what is, to our modern training, one of the most incomprehensible changes in language and spelling—namely, the switching about of the letters "Y," "G," "H" and "W," which occurred about the time the English language reasserted itself in a new form following the Norman invasion.

The explanation lies in peculiarities of pronunciation in those days which are not yet thoroughly understood, but the fact remains, in the form of written records that these four letters often were substituted one for another.

"Yate" was the old English form for "gate." Hence the family names Gates and Yates often come from the same original term "ate Yate," or "ate Gate," that is to say, "at the gate." But the name of Gates is often met with, in addition to this form, as "le Gate" or "le Geyt," and also as "le Weyte," these last three forms being an old English name for the public watchman, the policeman, we'd call him.

The name Byatt is the modern survival of "By-Yate," meaning "by the gate." And the family name of Liggett represents several stages of shortening from the form "atle Lidgegate." Lidgegate being the name of a definite locality in England today.

A MAN IS JUST AS YOUNG AND STRONG AS HIS BLOOD

No man can fight the battles of life and hold his own if his blood is not pure, for rich red blood is what strength is based upon. When you see a strong, vigorous man, who never knows when he is licked, you may wonder that such a man has coursing through his veins rich, red blood. Many people have thin, pale blood. They are weak, tire easily, become discouraged quickly, and sometimes feel like giving up the struggle. Such folks need Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is sold by druggists in liquid or tablet form.

It adds vigor to the heart beats and tones up the nerves in a wonderful way. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's is made from Blood root, Oregon Grape root, Stone root, contains no alcohol—yet tones up the stomach, stimulates the liver and puts the blood making glands in the best of condition. Many people write Dr. Pierce at the Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., as follows:

OAK HARBOR, OHIO.—"I had a very good experience with 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had been having boils all over my body; my blood was impoverished and in very poor condition. I took the 'Discovery' and it cleared up my blood and so purified it that I have never had any more boils. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is an excellent blood medicine and tonic to build up a run-down system, and I am glad to recommend it as such."

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

LUNGER, GO HOME TO BED
In every community there are even at this late day scores of "lungers," persons with various stages of lung tuberculosis, literally walking around to save funeral expenses. The idea in this ghastly epidemic is that they are hurrying the job along to beat the rising market. And they have selected a very effective way of speeding up the performance—just walking around.

Dr. F. M. Pottinger, a noted authority on tuberculosis, makes this assertion:

"In my experience in the treatment of tuberculosis I believe that the one factor that has added most to the chances of cure than any other is the principle of complete rest as long as the tuberculosis is active. This is based on physiologic principles, as follows:

"A patient lying in bed, knowing how to relax, lives with the least expenditure of energy. It takes twenty per cent more energy to sit in a chair quietly than it does to lie in bed. It takes about 50 per cent more energy to sit in a chair and engage in active conversation than it does to lie in bed quietly. And it takes 100 per cent more energy to walk around than it does to lie in bed. And if the patient is working it will sometimes require 300 per cent more energy than is required by rest in bed."

Now, then, you lungers, what do you say to spending a few weeks in bed and accumulating a little reserve of energy instead of squandering what little you have by sitting up visiting and walking around?

It is an unfortunate belief among tuberculosis subjects who play the dangerous game of self-doctoring that he gains strength and energy by active exercise, and that one grows "weak" by remaining in bed. This is a sad misconception inspired by half-baked notions of health propagated by freak physical culture exponents. It is true that muscles become weak when one remains for many weeks or months in bed, but an individual with such a disease as tuberculosis should treat his mind once and for all of the fact that muscular strength and physical health are synonymous. In other words, if he means to get well, he must himself supply considerable energy and the over-developed muscles of the physical culture freak probably account for his well recognized lack of physical endurance, his poor resistance to disease and his uniform obscurity or failure in all contests of an athletic as well as mental character. The big muscles are parasites, sucking energy from the body.

Persons with tuberculosis will do well to cut out and save the paragraphs I have quoted from Pottinger. They contain words of wisdom and experience.

EVEN TODAY

Men are much the same as 50 years ago; they still bite on shell games and gold bricks.

Things are not so bad that you can't add a little joy to the world by smiling occasionally.

A lot of young men find it possible to get a kick—from her father.

Automobile and airplane elopements are no more exciting than were those when the young gallants rode fiery steeds.

A lot of young women will have furs and silks even if they don't know where next week's meat ticket is coming from.

The old world is a better place in which to live than it ever was before.

FEZ DISAPPEARS IN TURKEY

Moslem Badge to be Replaced
By Modern Hats

CONSTANTINOPLE. — With the crumbling of Turkish authority and influence, the fez, the badge which all Turkish subjects, Christians, Jews and Turks alike, are supposed to wear, is rapidly disappearing. Although the Moslems still wear their fezes in the streets, they no longer cling to them slavishly indoors. Soon the Turks may be wearing hats with brims in Constantinople. Moslems in other parts of Turkey insist the Mohammedans in the capital lost their religion long ago thru their desire to imitate the infidels.

As all heads must remain covered in the mosques and it is quite impossible to touch one's forehead to a prayer rug while wearing a hat with brim, the fez is indispensable to the faithful Moslem who prays daily to Mecca. Even military and naval officers must wear headgear.

The fez still prevails in Anatolian cities. In fact it is unsafe for foreigners to wear a hat in many of them unless he desires to attract a crowd of hooting small boys and run the risk of starting a riot. Osman Naha, the terrorist governor of Kerasunde, recently checked the tendency of non-Moslems in that city to get away from old customs.

BUY THE ST. RITAS TAG AND SUPPORT A WORTHY INSTITUTION

Now comes another opportunity to feel good within one's self. It is an opportunity to give something towards humanity. Nothing direct to be seen, but far better, the knowledge that your wife or your check in a substantial amount will result in better care for some poor victim of this world's wear, tear and accident.

It is St. Rita's Tag Day. In the morning various committees of women under the general officers of the Hospital, will be selling the little tags, the receipts from which will be used to supply and maintain the beds at St. Rita's. Lima has one of the very few modern hospitals built in recent years. It came none too soon, and saved the city when the flu became an epidemic and suffering city-wide. It is deserving of substantial support, and when the women ask you to buy a tag, dig a bit deeper and if a bill instead of small change drops into the boxes, know that you are doing something worthy for a great cause, a wonderful institution, and a municipal hospital to send to the ill and afflicted.

THOUSANDS OF LIMA PEOPLE WILL TELL YOU THEY HAVE SAVED BY BUYING AT THE JOLLEY-CHENOWETH "UNUSUAL FALL SALE" WATCH THEIR ADS.

ROAD FUNDS CAN'T BE GIVEN CITY

Commissioners Give Views on Request—Price Hasn't Answered

City officials can not depend upon the two-mill levy voted by the voters of Allegheny last year to improve and construct roads, to help them reduce the $12,000 shortage which the city is facing for operating expenses.

"The city will not get money from that levy, only as designated by the voters," County Commissioner John G. Mackenzie said today. "The levy was to improve and construct roads, not for any other purpose."

"We couldn't, if we wanted, turn for any part of it to them, other than that designated," County Commissioner W. W. 1924, and "When a certain election is held for anything, funds cannot be turned to an other."

Answer to the joint telegram sent

The annual election of the South Side Building and Loan Association will be held at the City of Allegheny, Pa., at 7 o'clock, P. M., on September 22, 1924, for the purpose of electing officers and directors and for the transaction of other business that may come before the meeting.

NO PEACE WITHOUT LEAGUE-BAKER

Secretary Says Pact Has Already Saved One War

WATERLOO, Iowa — (By Associated Press) — There will be no peace in Europe until the burden of armament is lifted and the fear of war destroyed, Secretary Baker declared here Friday in a speech devoted wholly to discussion of the treaty of Versailles and the league of nations covenant.

Challenging a statement from Senator Harding's speech accepting the Republican presidential nomination that the league was "so utterly impotent to prevent wars that it has not even been tried," Secretary Baker declared the league's operation "has already saved one war." He recited the submission to the league council by Sweden and Finland, of the Aland Island dispute.

"Under the old order," Mr. Baker said, "Finland would instantly have occupied the Aland Islands with her military forces. Sweden would have mobilized her fleet, run off Finnish ships if possible and prepared expeditionary forces for immediate attack. But the league in operation has already prevented one war."

THE ROOM WITH THE TASSELS

By Carolyn Wells

"Yes," said the thin little voice of the thin little girl, and Milly suddenly realized that Zizi was present with the crowd.

The graceful little figure stepped forward and stood at Wise's side as he looked the hall over. He tapped at the paneled walls, and smiled as he said, "Solid and intact. No secret passage or sliding panel,—of that I'm sure."

"If you're trying to find a secret entrance into the house, Mr. Wise," Landon said, "you are wasting your time. I am more or less architecturally inclined, and I've tapped and sounded and measured and calculated—and I can assure you there's nothing of the sort."

"Good work! That saves me some trouble. I'm sure. Marvellous work on these doors, eh? And the bronze columns,—from abroad, I take it."

"Yes," Professor Harwick said, slapping his hand against one of the fluted bronze pillars, "I admire those columns more than the doors even. They're unique. I don't wonder their owner built a house behind them. I doubt if their match is in America."

"And the locks and bolts are as ponderous as the doors," commented the detective. "Eh, Zizi?"

"They are like that all over the house," said the girl, in a casual tone. "Even the kitchen quarters are as securely fastened and bolted, and upstairs, any doors that give on balconies are strongly guarded. I have never seen a house more carefully looked after in the matter of barricades."

The girl spoke slowly, as if on the witness stand. Then suddenly her black eyes twinkled, and she turned sharply toward Eve, saying, "Oh, do you do that, too?"

"Do what?" asked Eve, angrily.

"What do you mean?"

"Scribble notes, and pass 'em to somebody. I do, too. It's a habit I can't seem to break myself of."

"I didn't," and Eve's face flushed and her eyes glittered with a smoldering fire.

"Oh, tra la la," trilled Zizi, and nonchalantly turned away.

"Now for the Room with the Tassels," said Wise, and led the way to the forbidding room.

"Ghastly, ghastly and grisly!" he declared after a quick survey, "but no entrance except by door or windows."

"And they were locked every time the room was slept in by any of our party," announced the Professor, positively.

"That makes it easier," smiled Wise.

"You see, I feared secret panels and that sort of thing,—not uncommon in old houses. But you've found none."

"None," assented Landon. "If your theory of a human 'ghost' is right, you've got to account for the forcing of the big bolts of those front doors, or—"

"Or suspect some of your household," concluded Wise, practically.

"Well, I haven't suspected any one as yet. I'm just absorbing facts, on which to base my theories. Now for the drawing room."

The long sombre, old-fashioned room received scant examination.

"Nothing doing, Zizi?" said Wise, briefly.

"Only a Bad Taste Exhibition," the girl remarked, making a very face at the ornate decorations and appointments. Then, with her peculiar, gliding motion, she slid across the hall again, and examined the knob and lock on the door of the room with the Tassels.

"Fascinating room," she said, with a glance round it. "But horrible," and her thin shoulders shrugged. "Those tassels are enough to make a hen cross the road!"

Milly giggled, and for the first time since the day of the tragedies, dinner was rather pleasant than otherwise. The detective, laying aside all thought or talk of his purpose there, was entertaining and even merry. He spoke somewhat of himself, and it transpired that he was an artist,—an illustrator of current magazine stories.

"And Zizi is my model," he informed them. "That is, when I want a thin, scarecrow type. I don't use her for average peach heroine. Look out Zizi, don't eat too much of that potato puff! You see, if she puts on a bit of flesh, she runs straight back to the movie studios."

"Ah, a film star?" said Brave.

"Not a star," and Wise shook his head. "But a good little actress for a part."

Zizi flashed an amused smile from her black eyes and partook again of the forbidden potato puff.

"Zizi! For the love of Mike!" expostulated Wise.

"The love of Mike is the root of all evil," said Zizi saucily; "but then, everything is."

"Is what?" asked Eve, interested against her will in this strange child.

"Is the root of all evil," was the calm reply.

"When! this must be an evil old world!" exclaimed Brave.

"And isn't it?" Zizi flashed back, her big eyes sparkling like liquid jet.

"Are you a pessimist, little one?" asked the Professor, studying the clever, wry face.

"Nay, nay, Pauline," said the small, pointed chin was raised a bit. "Not so, but far otherwise."

"Then why do you think the world is evil?"

"Ah, sir, when one spends one's life between a Moving Picture Studio and a popular artist's studio one learns much that one had better left unlearned."

The child face suddenly looked aged, and then, as suddenly broke into a gay smile. "Don't ask me these things," she said, "ask Penny Wise. I'm only his Pound Foolish."

"You'll put on another foolish pound if you eat any more of that desert," growled Wise, scowling at her.

"All right, I won't," and the slender little fingers laid down the teaspoon Zizi was using. Then, in an audible aside, she added, "Hester will give me more, later," and chuckled like a naughty child.

The next morning Pennington Wise set about his work in earnest. "I'm going to East Dryden," he announced. "I want to interview the doctors, also Mr. Stebbins. I don't mind saying frankly, this is the deepest mystery I have ever encountered. If any of you here can help me, I beg you will do so, for the case looks very high, hopeless. Ah, here, Zizi."

The girl appeared dreadfully to go with Wise in the motor car. She wore a small black hat with an ornate wing in it, and a full-draped-colored lining. Inconspicuous, save when the cape's lining showed, Zizi looked distinguished and smartly costumed. A small black veil, delicately adjusted, clouded her sharp little features, and she sprang into the car without help, and nestled into a corner of the tonneau.

Only a chauffeur accompanied them, and he could not hear the conversation carried on in low tones.

"What about it, Zizi?" murmured

Wise, as they passed the aspen grove and the black lake.

"Awful things," she returned, merely breathing the words. "The Eve girl has a secret, too."

"Foot?"

"Yes, she isn't the criminal, you know."

"I don't know."

"Well, you will know. She's a queer mechanism, but she never killed anybody."

"Sure, Zizi?"

"Sure, oh, Wise Guy. Now, who did it?"

"Well, who did?"

"We don't know yet, and we mustn't theorize without data, you know."

"Rats! I always theorize without data. And I've never failed to corral the data."

"You're a deuce of a deducter, you are!"

"And you're a She Sherlock, I suppose! Well, oh, Miss of Wisdom go ahead. Spill it to me."

"Can't now. I've lost my place! But after a few more interviews with some few more interested parties, I may, perhaps, possibly, maybe,—oh, Penny, look back at the house from here! Did you ever see such a weird, wild spook-pit!"

and they did count in a fellow's life. We walked all the way back to Russell Square and sat down a moment on a bench just before I went in. It was then that Cecil took my hand in his, lifted it to his lips, and thanked me in a trembling voice for my goodness to him. Then he promised to meet me tomorrow—in Kensington Gardens and to remember his promise. (To Be Continued).

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

CECIL GETS SOME GOOD ADVICE

When we had finished our supper we sat and talked for another long time, and Cecil was all cheeriness and smiles. I knew then the worst, that he had been hungering for a sight of me. In fact he spilled the beans after he had polished off a large dish of red currant tart! Men are always most expansive after a good meal, you know.

Of course I told him that he was very foolish, especially under the circumstances, and that there was nothing to be done about it all, as far as I was concerned; so he had better pull himself together, be a man of the world, and get on with the work at hand. Namely, to go back and take that position he had accepted in Boston, and face things out bravely. As I pointed out, within a year he would find some nice girl; that is, if he still wished to be tied down to a wife, and then he would have a good, old laugh at his nonsense—and his courtings in Paris.

"Look at me," cried I. "I'm not as happy as I let the world believe, not much, but you don't see me careening off to Paris, nor deserting the ship nor anything. But I could, for my daddy gave me five hundred dollars to spend on my very own self, before I left home, and that would give me a few days in Paris, or anywhere where one may drown sorrow. But I don't do ashamed not to, and I'm only a girl, Cecil. I hold on tight. I'd be a woman. Yes, sir, one of those same weak, despised creatures in skirts, that you men have called the weaker vessels. You had better take a leaf out of my book, and forget all this nonsense and begin over again. And if you're a good boy I'll pay with you for a few days, until your boat sails back for America."

I finally won him over to my way of seeing things, and it made me feel a hundred per cent better. He also asked me most specially not to tell mother that he was here in England. Nor anything about having seen him. I guess he felt ashamed, so of course I promised not to.

Cecil behaved himself very well the whole evening, and not by word or deed did he cause me any uneasiness as to what his future conduct towards me would be. In fact, he seemed to have gotten a complete grip on himself, and his emotions, to have even forgotten that he had once made violent love to the likes of me. For which I was thankful.

We strolled thru Kensington Gardens, after our supper, and the new moon peeped down shyly on us, and I felt happier than I had for a long time. I really do like being with Cecil ever so much, and especially when I feel that I am helping him and necessary to him. That's the way of most women, I believe.

He let me feel and read in every more and more of his need of me, and this was so different from the Cecil of old, the Cecil of the bold attack and the impetuous kiss, that I hardly recognized him.

He told me of the bad times he had put in New York, after we left, and how lonely it was. Daddy was out most of the time, and after he had left and gone up to Boston he just couldn't stand the idea of staying on—anywhere in America. So he took the first boat over. At least he had friends here in Europe,

YANKS DEFEAT AND CLEVELAND WIN GIVES TRIBE TOP AGAIN

BROOKLYN PLAYING CHAMPIONSHIP BALL, TAKES THE FIRST OF THEIR SERIES WITH CINCINNATI AND GETS A SIX-GAME LEAD OVER CHAMPS

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD CHANGE

The Yankees lost the lead in the American League when the White Sox got to Quinn in the second inning for four runs. The final score was 8 to 3.

Mails took a pitcher's battle from Zachary, Senators' heater, 1 to 0, and put the Indians back at the top of the league.

Robertson's home run, with two on in the ninth, clinched the Cubs 9 to 5 victory over Philadelphia.

Owen Bush, Tiger shortstop, doubled in the tenth and brought in the run that downed the Red Sox 7 to 6.

The Robins made another, winning 5 to 2.

SUPERBA LEAD LOOKS GOOD ENOUGH FOR LEAGUE HONORS

By JOE BERNSTEIN

It took a combination of wins on the part of the Chicago White Sox and the Cleveland Indians to oust the New York Yankees from first place in the American League Thursday, but they did it and presented a more complicated battle front when the smoke had blown over.

When the Tribe beat the Senators and when the White Sox kept Babe Ruth and Company from overcoming their eight run total, the Indians took the top and by a lead of three games.

Mails, a recruit with the Cleveland team was responsible for blanking the senators, allowing them but four hits while a double and a wild pitch gave the Indians the lone tally that they needed to win the game and first.

The White Sox turned the trick in the opening game of their "crucial series" with New York, and from indications, will not be out of the race for first for at least a few more battles.

Babe Ruth was probably the most disappointed individual of all, for the big home run hitter just naturally didn't get anything better than two singles out of his five trips to the plate in that game Thursday.

The Reds look as tho they are all in. Brooklyn took them into camp for a 5 to 3 win and widened the breach between the champs and themselves. It now means that the Reds, if they expect to be champs again this year, will have to win about 17 of the 18 remaining games if the Superbas take six of the eleven that are left.

GIANTS AND SOX STILL POSSIBILITIES

Altho their percentages look a little way from a winning count, both the White Sox and Giants still have a chance at the flags in their respective leagues, but it will be a mighty hard task for either of them to copy. The Giants, split a double bill Thursday with the Pirates and slipped back slightly in figures, but the split bill indicates that they are still winning games. If they can gather enough energy to start off on another rally like they did a few weeks ago, they may spring the surprise of the year.

The White Sox have just 12 games left.

SERIES CONTINUE FRIDAY

The contenders for the honors in both circuits will battle again today with Brooklyn entertaining the Reds on their own field, and with the White Sox and Yankees at Chicago.

Cleveland has another day with the Washington outfit, and another chance to add more points to its standing.

Babe Ruth will probably get his fifth in the game with the White Sox Friday unless the Chicago pitchers are hurling a brand of ball that will surprise more people than just the Big Bambino.

Brooklyn, the dope says, will take the series from the Reds. Their lead at present amounts to six full games—something that would discourage any team that has such a handicap to overcome so late in the race.

The Reds look out of it for good and Brooklyn, without any caustic comment, whatsoever, can announce itself ready to sell World Series seats.

Anyway, most of the sport scribblers who expect to give the story of the World's Championship battles to the world, are making reservations in Brooklyn and New York hotels, preparing to write the tale of one end of the series while in the big city.

Brooklyn, the dope says, will take the series from the Reds. Their lead at present amounts to six full games—something that would discourage any team that has such a handicap to overcome so late in the race.

The Grace Epworth League Team has started practicing for the coming basketball season with several new men in the line up. The team won the Amateur Championship of Lima last year.

Altho handicapped by the loss of two of their players, Ray Gores, center and George Bassel, forward, the team believes that the new men will be in shape by the time the season opens. These of the old men are in the lineup, M. Copp, guard, W. Davis, guard and R. Burgess, forward.

The team is ready to book games with all other Amateur teams of the state. For information write Marvin Copp, 1912 W. Wayne St., City. The team will open their season by playing the Scout team of South Lima, on Thanksgiving Day.

Then a boy named Polver who is slated for a position in the back field has enough driving power and speed to be able to capture a berth in the backfield of any high school eleven.

The weight of the entire squad will probably not average over 135 pounds a man, but the amount of

FOUR INDUSTRIAL BATTLES BOOKED FOR SATURDAY; GARFORD IN LEAD

Another day of postponed baseball games will draw the attention of industrial league fans Saturday when four battles are scheduled to be played just as tho the season were but half over.

Official announcement of the following games for Saturday were given out by the commission in charge of the industrial league.

At the Murphy street diamonds: Lima Locomotive vs. Solar Refinery; East Iron vs. Garford.

At the Faurot park diamonds: Gramon Bernstein vs. Deisel Wemmer Ohio Steel vs. Chalmers.

Garford at present is leading the league by virtue of a protested game that was ordered thrown out by the commission. Defeat for them at the hands of the East Iron team and victory for Deisel Wemmer will be the only circumstances under which a change in leadership can be affected, Saturday.

Industrials are preparing for the final wind-up of the season, which is scheduled to take place within another week. There still remains a few postponed games that will have to be played off before a winner of the Starrett cup can be officially declared.

It is understood from various sources, that should the Garford outfit win the cup by but a one game margin, a protest against their right to the championship will be entered by the Deisel Wemmer team.

Opinion is to the effect that the Deisel Wemmer-Garford game that was thrown out, was drawn from the records contrary to the rules as interpreted by some of the highest baseball authorities.

HUNDRED OUT FOR HARVARD ELEVEN

BOSTON. — Harvard's football forces number one hundred. Additional candidates for the team bring the Crimson's total up to that figure. Keith Kamp and Duke Swazwick, the tackles on last year's eleven are still missing, but are looked for later. They are the only veterans out of the fold.

Captain Arnold Horween views the coming season with quiet confidence. With Coach Fisher he is not underestimating the strength of Princeton and Yale, but the material is so promising across the river that the Crimson will have enough on their opponents to win out.

The veteran players now working on Soldier's Field are Dick Humphrey, left half; Bubbles Havemeyer, center; Tommie Woods, the 220-pound guard; Wyant Hubbard, sub tackle, and Mitch Gratiwick, second string back. All appear in regular trim. Woods can lose a bit, but the others are already playing in form.

For the present Fisher has the assistance of Derrick Parmenter, Wallie Trumbull, Bill Snow, Charlie Coolidge and Dick Lewis. Coolidge and Lewis are dividing the end coaching, while the others are looking after the rush line.

Billie Murray, last year's captain, and Fred Bradley are fixing up the back, with Jimmie Knox acting in a general capacity previous to his taking charge of the second team.

DOG AND MONKEY ACT IS GOOD

Orpheum Presents Entertaining

'WOMAN'S BUSINESS' HERE

Story of Keeping Up Appearances Told in Play

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

One of the newest acts ever shown here is being featured at the Orpheum theatre, where Barnold's Dogs and several trained monkeys disport to the delight of the audience. These canine comedians have been cleverly trained, and especially the one called "Drunken Dan" Dan comes out of a bar-room, seemingly dazed, leans against the building a while and makes numerous other trips to the interior. His exit is one of the funniest bits of acting ever attempted, and the whole company lends him its loyal support to make the act a big success.

Other good things on the program include Jack and June McLaughlin, called as a "Dance from Broadway." Their act is comprised of songs and dances and the columning is beautiful.

Three young men, on the program as Monarchs of Mirth and Melody are the best on the bill, outside of the headline feature. Individually and in unison their voices are above the average, and their act is very snappy.

On the program as living pictures and trained pigeons, are very beautiful to look upon, but by no means new to theatre-goers. Sam Lee Chinatown musician, offers a novel lot of interesting, playing on different nameless instruments, Chinese, Japanese, Charles and Marjorie Richmond have a splendid act, called "On The Sands." Genial nonsense makes up the bulk of their offering which goes over big. All six acts are entertaining.

"A WOMAN'S BUSINESS"
It is a woman's business to keep up her appearance, strive for social position and having attained it keep up the pace no matter what the cost? The question is answered in "A Woman's Business" playing at the Lyric theatre and starring beautiful Olive Tell.

No matter how they are situated financially, the eternal feminine vanity must be recognized. This is shown in a novel manner before the eyes of the audience. However, the story shows how a young, country girl, anxious to leave home and yearning for a place in society, meets and marries a young man who promises her all she asks. For a time she is happy, until her husband loses his position and they are not kept up with the moneyed friends. A divorce ensues, and the wife starts a little millinery shop, financed by the husband of one of her society friends. Of course, she learns that true love is all that is worth while and eventually goes back to her husband. It's one of those pictures, where you know exactly how it is going to end in the first reel. Miss Tell is a beautiful lead, but is well aware of the fact, which is the only thing wrong with her acting. Otherwise, she is quite natural and her leading man whose name I don't know, is wonderful. No one could blame her for going back to him, no matter how poor.

The picture is a lesson to many of us, and as such, is a winner.

NEW YORK — Trading was lively in the early dealings on the stock exchange Friday. The hesitancy which the list showed at the outset as a result of Thursday's catastrophe was soon dispelled by a broad buying movement which embraced most of the popular shares. Shippings, steels, and other industrial stocks, Mexican Petroleum, Standard Oil, and American Smelter Tobacco were lifted one half to 2 points. Railroads moved narrowly but Reading and Rock Island were substantially higher. Losses in Southern Pacific, New York Central, International Paper, Inspiration Copper and Royal Dutch, were partly retrieved when the main trend became upward.

Prices made a steady upward progress of an expanding volume of business during the morning. Speculative sentiment was cheerful, buying being encouraged by the easier monetary conditions, strength of sterling and the improved labor situation. Pool activities accounted for some striking advances in some of the specialties but the entire list made a good showing with the usual leaders well to the front. United Fruit advanced 7 points and other industrials ruled 1 to 3 points higher. In the railroad stock coal issues were absorbed steadily at improvements of 1 to 4 points.

Profit-taking sales were well absorbed, the rise attaining greater momentum under the impetus of lower money rates. Mexican Petroleum jumped 9 points. The closing was strong.

Buying of a confident character caused material advances throughout the list with the representative shares responding to public buying. Sales approximated 1,100,000 shares.
